Miss Mittie Garrard, daughter of Col James II. Garrard, dled in Frankfort on Thursday last. In making this said announcement tho Commonwealth says: "Mis-Garrard was a young lady in the very bloom and morning of life-emlnently glifted with those attractive and feminine graces that find their way to all hearts-qualities that grow up around the henrthstone, filial in their affections, kind toward others, amiable in all the relations of life. The premature death o such a one is at all times a great social grlef and excites the heartfelt sympathies of all But in this case, the distressed family, to whom the sun of yesterday rose fair to all but te those who were thus soroly afflicted, are receiving the condolements of all who knew them. The eldest son, the late Capt. Danie Garrard, fell at the head of his command, in the disastrous attack upon Vicksbarg-the youngest child, little Theophllus Garrard, died a few months ago, and now, Mittic, the eldest of the family, and the hope and pride of their declining years, is taken from them. Providence deals mysteriously and wisely, and those who grieve should wait patiently till all seeming evil is justified by Him who can do

THE EMBAROO ON SHIPMENTS .- We have just learned that the officer vested with authority to raise the embargo in this section passed through the city yesterday, en ronte to Gen. Grant, on business connected with the opening of the Mississippi River. Surveyor Cotton endeavored to arrest his attention at this point, and impress him with the importance of immediately opening up trade in this port, but it seems his efforts were unavailing We would, therefore, suggest to our mercantile community the propriety of calling a meeting and lay the condition of affairs here before the War Department. It is essential that business should be resumed immediately. ns the hest season of the year is upon us. We can see no reason why this embargo should he continued any longer.

OWEN COUNTY .- We are informed that ther was an extensive lucursion of returned rebel to various parts of Owen county on Thursday. who were orderlog off the Union men an stealing horses, mules, saddles, harness, and wagons. Not the least astonishing Item of our Intelligence is that Bud Revill, who was arrested some ten days since at Owenton and taken to Frankfort, has again made his ap pearance in the former place, more venomou and insulting than before. The mail carrie for Frankfort has been again captured and be pouches destroyed.

Sourcean Kentucky. - The rabel force which menaced Columbia, Adalr county, the fore part of the week was increased to ten twelve hundred on Thursday, so that the two or three companies of Union cavalry were compelled to fall back. General Manson ordered up reinforcements, but they were no within supporting distance on Thursday night when there were frequent and shnrp sklimishes as our friends retired in order toward Lebanou. Ws havo reports also of large addi tions of Confederates at Burksville, but noth ing definits as to numbers or results.

ACCIDENTAL SHOOTING. - Theodore Peasle, aged between eight and nins years was no cidently shot and killed on Saturday morning at 11 o'clock, at the intersection of lifteent street and the Southern Ditch.

GREY HAWE, JACKSON COUNTY, KY., } April 13, 1863. DEAR Sin: This leaves me lower down in spirits than I have ever been since I had a family. Some ten days ago, Cluke, with some five hundred men, came in through by Proc tor, in Owsley county, taking all the horse they could get; came on to my house, took a mule from me; eat and destroyed all the corn I had; pastured my wheat, and committee other depredations.

On Tuesday, the 7th of this instant, E Marshall's men, with the guerilla haad from Breathitt county, commenced coming into our county by Proctor, taking horses, cattle, an everything they could get hold of; came on t everything they could get hold of; came on to Boonville, burned the jail, destroyed the records in the cler'ks offices, cut the books up and scattered them through the streets; came on to my house, took every horse and mule I had, numbering thirteen, headed by Jack May, Jerry South's son, Wm. P. Lacy, James Hurd, and Robt. Allen. They got niter my two oldest sons, up the branch from my house, and shot most of their ammunition at them; Lacy then charged upon my oldest son, with his musket in hand, cursing him—swore he would hang him. My son drew his pistol, shot Lacy through the arm, and into his canteen. Lacy threw up his hand, hallooed out, don't. My son fired again, took Lacy under the ear, dropped him off his horse, dead. The hoys then broke—the musket balls cutting all round them—ran down a steep cilff, that their horses them—ran down a steep cliff, that their horse could not charge down, and made their escap Into the woods. The rebels then set fire t my houses; harned everything I had, leaving my wife and children with nothing but the clothes they had on. My wife got down on her knees to them, and offered them one thou sand dollars, in cash, not to burn her house. They would not hear her. She then tried to get her things out of the house. They kep her off with their muskets; some few thing-however, which she did get out, were take from her by the rebels, consisting principal of thirty-three bed blankets. The balan all went to the flames. I was in Jacks county at the time, and am still here. wife is in a schoolhouse, below where my house stood, with my three youngest children-m two boys heing hid out in the mountains with nothing to eat, wear, or sleep on, exce what the neighbors can furnish her what the neighbors can furnish her. Neither of us can get to see the other, as the rebels are still passing. Mine, I understand, was the seventeenth house they have burned on the rout up as far as my place. I understand they burned Clarke's Salt Works, and also Gen. The ophilus T. Garrard's bouses. How true this if do not know. Tho damage done, so far up as to my house, is certainly true. My son cambo me last night and gave me all the particulars.

I have begged and plead hard with the au thorities below for help. The only comfort get is, we are not worth taking care of, and ought to leave. One thing you know, and that is, that the people here are so poor that they cannot get away; and if they could, how are they to live when they have no means, af-are they to live when they have no means, after they leave, to go upon.

These counties that are suffering as much are the most loval portion of the State—Clay Owsley, and Jackson turning out, upon an average, five hundred volunteers to the county and not one of them permitted to come here to the rescue of their families and friends, hur are all sent to Vicksburg, Marfreesbord, aucher reports out of the State.

r points out of the State. I have not seen my wife for some thro wooks and don't know what to do. We have no meat nor grain to live on here, and no horses or mules to take us away—nor no means to buy with. All my papers, notes, accounts, deeds, and everything I had burned up, and not left any clothing even for a change. I am going to try to get through to my family to-night, if I can, and will, in a few days, decide what we will do—for I have given up. cide what we will do—for I have given up all hope of any protection from the Government here, and a number of families are bound to Yours truly,

A REBEL PRIVATEER AT SAN FRANCISCO. Yesterday morning at an early hour th schooner J. M. Chapman, which had cleared istensibly for Mauzanillo, Mexico, on Satur lay afternoon, was soized by the Federal au norities. The fact created some excluence in the city, and a host of rumors were allowed. ending to create considerable alarm. The schooner was taken in charge by a steam-tug, and towed over 10 Alcatraz Island, and subsequently placed in charge under the guas of ne United States sloop-of-war Cyane. The barticulars of the affair are as follows:

For some eight or nine months past the Collector, Naval Officer, and Surveyor have been in possession of the knowledge of a persistent attempt to purchase and fit out a vessel suita-ble for privateering. The parties implicated were known, and their movements have been refully watched. They were, however, un-table to procure a suitable craft, although numer one offers were made for craft of various calibre. They found a vessel, it seems, in the schooner I. M. Chapman, which arrived at this port on the 17th of February list, in one bundered and nirty days from New York, via Vulparalso, to see that no one molested it, and it waved there are the command of W. Law, the ostensible Captain of the hapman, who, it is stated, was to be second fficer of the plrate, has for a number of years ruded on the Pacific coast, having been in the employ of the Pacific Mail Steamship Comany, and lately an officer on the steamer Ore on trading to the Pacific Mexican ports. on training to the ractic steeten ports. He specified in the coast, and knows the exact track of the steamers.

On Saturday night Messrs. McLean and Farwell, the Surveyor and Naval Officer of the Port, accompanied by Capt. Lees, Officers McDougal, Biltz, Coffey, and seven other persons, person the watch.

In the night a lighter bauled alongside the Chapman, and a quantity of material was aken on board, which, of course, was in conravention of the revenue laws; as, whatever t might prove to be, It had not hese manifestd. This was carefully noted, but no oppo-ition was made, as it might interfere with ubsequent proceedings.

At half-past five in the morning the vessel was hauled into the stream. The morning was clear and beautiful, with very little wind tirring. But two or three persons appeared obe stirring on her deck, she, to all outward pearance, being as innocent and harmless as isco. When about three invadred yards from he dock, an observer might have seen two hoats' crews of armsd men put off from the Cyane, and simultaneously therewith the nose of the Anashe swing round into the channel, and the control of the Anashe swing round into the channel, and the control of the Confederate States at the control of the Confederate States as the confederate Stat he tug starting on her track, with a loud of and bark from her smoke-stack, an mindus warning to those on hoard the chooner that they were entrapped. In a few noments she was boarded by the officers and men from the Cyane, and Messrs. McLean and Farwell, with Officers Lees, McDougal, Blitz, and Coffey.

Capt. Lees proceeded to explore the hold of Capt. Lees proceeded to explore the hold of the craft. Procuring a light he entered the forecastle, and passing through a small door in the bulkhead, separating that from the hold, he crept over boxes, bundles, &c., nntil nearly under the main hatch, when he discovered a nest of from fifteen to seventeen men snugly atoms of from fifteen to seventeen men snugly stowed away, apparently as freight, with the rest of the cargo. The Pirate's Oath.—Among the papers outly on board was a solemn oath of secrecy, of which the following is a copy:
"Having been brought to this room for the purpose of having a secret confined to me, and believing that to divulge such secret would imperit the lives of certain Southern men as well as injure the cause of the Confederate States of America, I do solemnly swear, in the name of the Confederate States, within whos never, by word, sign, or deed, hint at or di-vnlge what I may hear to-day. Secession Plots Confirmed.—Some of the documents reveal the details of pluts hereto-foro known to be projected by secessionists in our midst for the withdrawal, by force and arms, of California from the Union. The following extract forms the conclusion of a letter written by General Halleck to a radical mass meeting:

We have already made immense progress ia this war—a greater progress than was ever before made under similar circumstaaces. Our Citizons of Kentucky, you have read the extract we published from Hulleck, the Geuernl-in-Chief of the army. You have read his authoritative declaration that when the war is over it is the intentiou to lead the army back and crush out the Democracy, the true lovers of the Constitution in the North. We do not believe that the army wishes to engage in any such crusade, but we must hear it in mind that they have uo choice but obedien or death. Shall we, as the radicals of Kentucky propose, wait till the war is over before we try, hy saving the Constitution, to pre-vent any such disaster? In the name of the liberties our fathers gave us—in the name of the Constitution which has protocted us in the name of our soldiers who would wish to avoid the dreadful penalty of obedience to the Commander-in-Cluef or death, we implore you to begin now to do something for our republican freedom. The evidences of distinct ages of In the work before us Sir Charles understone, bronze, and iron furnished by these de velopments are beyond the reach of cavil. takes to loosen, if not to untie, the gordian knot of man's occupation of the earth, and, Those ages were prior to what we call the biswith a skill peculiarly his own, he demon- torical period. As we look at these vast restrates an antiquity of that occupation that gions of interest in man's career, and often will surprise all who are ignorant of the in- feel the want of connecting links, we hope vestigations that point to that antiquity. For provided we do not do the thing in the spirit a number of years many predent archeologists of Bishop Colenzo, that we may be forhave been carefully sifting a multitude of facts given for murmuring hecause Moses did that are of a remarkable character. Let ns not give us a minute hiographical sketch look for a moment nt the clearness of the of Tubal-Cain, or, as Americans would proofs upon one important point. There are deposits of peat in Denmark which are from ten to thirty feet in depth. They are found

call him, Professor Tubal-Cain. "Sir Charles Lyell has used a portion of the prolific material of the records to which we refer with entire honesty, but we have been somewhat surprised in finding that he has omitted many mportant ficts that have been gathered by Morlot, Thomsen, Nilsson, Steenstrup, and

We come now to one of the stattling points the age of man on the earth. Myriads reose on the idea that man has occupied the glohe about six thousand years, but there are many facts antagonistic to that. There are diameter, which must have grown on the changes on the surface of the globe, that commeaced and have continued among the abodes of men, that forcibly point to thirty thousand has it been within historic times, a native of years as the time occupied in making these Denmark, and will not grow there now thriftchanges. There are some things that we know ily, yet lt was indigenous and vory thrifty as positively as if we had been present from the ommencement to the end of the changes For example, among the early inhabitants of our planet, after it reached a condition for any these pines. After this Scotch fir passed from kind of life, was an animal called the Trilobite. He is extensively found in the sedimentary rocks, and when his race perished, multitudes of them were huddled together at the time of their destruction. Along the lakes of Ontario, Erie, &c., immense beds of these animals per ished, and their destruction forms the sole source of supply of innumerable beds of oil in special localities. In other places other forms of life contribute to the supply. We know as positively other ancient facts. The Fulls of Niagara were once at Lewistown, and the water has worn the rack from that point to ts present position at the village of Niagara We know what has been about the natural amount of wear and tear since the French nissionaries recorded its wonders, and from this knowledge we deduce an occupancy of the earth by man far beyond six thousand years Sir Charles Lyell appeals to other evidence ment and of interesting instruction that opens quite as imposing and conclusive. We leave the reader to examine Sir Charles Lyell's very careful and modest statement of the testime tombs of the Theban Kings, "How like an Arnial facts.

We pass now abruptly to the leading idea of he great work before us-the antiquity of man on the earth. The appearance of human bones, especially crania, in various places in of extinct species, as for instance thoso of the eave-benr, and bones of animals at present in existence, the curious skull found in Neanderthal Cave ucar Dusseldorf, the Engie skull ound in connection with extinct species of the elephant, rhinoceros, bear, tiger, and hyena, and with bones of a bear, stag, wolf, fox, beaver, and many other quadrupeds of existing species, in the post-plioceno period, together with flint, silex, and stone weapons, point back to very remote periods in the human ruce, utterly unknown to historic re cords. Sir Charles Lyell's investigation o man in connection with the Glacial periods is one of the grandest developments of thought we have ever read. Indeed, the entire subject has an absorbing interest connected with it that we have never known equalled by any scientific work. We find iunumerable evidences of a long period of time when men were but little above the brute forces around them, in what we call the arts of life. But upon this point the evidence is defective. Our present testimonies are mainly confined to Europe, which was not the cradle of the human race, nor of its arts. The sudder appearance of the bronze period in Europe, ntroduced hy invaders, from which the deluction is fair that those who were acquainted forces of civilization, the discovery quite recently of a copper age among the races in dississippi where no such age had been susected before, are checks upon the theory that he stone-age races iu Europe were types of all the earth. But the entire investigation, aand iu hand with Sir Charles Lyell, will reiu the Baltic. These facts are conclusive, that at the time these Kjockkenmoedding, as the ward any reader, especially if he studies the subject carefully. Sir Charles Lyell's chapter ipon language is one of rare power. There is fase, the Baltic had more perfect access to the not n language on the earth now that is one housand yeare old.

Through the present testimonies we see nan, in Europe, groping his way for ages along sea-coasts and arms of the sea. Through another long per'od, after the introduction of hunting dog, the races were hunters, and after that, long hefore any written documents were made, the races became cultivators of domestic nnimals for food. But the evidences are ahundant that in all this darkness man was ravelling upward. We have no doubt that the language of Agassiz will be found perfectly applicable to the whole matter of this work. He says: "Whenever a new nud startling fact s brought to light in science, people first say it is not true,' then that 'it is contrary to religion,' and, lastly, 'that everybody knew it be One of the most remarkable development from the nucient crania is the low order of brain they exhibit. In some of the most interesting examples, the best anatomists wero puzzled for awhile to determine whether the crania belonged to men or nnes. Our reader will remember the quandury of Duvy Crockett once in a menagerie, when he mistook one of the monkeys for a Tennessee politician, and upon discovering that gentleman near enough to him to have heard his remarks, avowed himself perfectly willing to make an apology provided he could be satisfied as to which of the parties, the monkey or the man, the apology was due. An infinitely greater miad than Crockett, one of the proudest names in TIRE STORK of literature, licnry lialinm, has uttered senti meats on this point, akin to Crockett's. He says: "If man was made in the image of God. he was also made in the image of an ape The frame-work of the body of him who has weighed the stars and made the lightning his slavo approachee to that of a speechless brute who wanders in the forests of Sumatra. Thus mals, charcoal and splinters of flint, fashioned standing on the froatier land between animal and angelic natures, what wonder that he should partake of both!" But wo must close this imperfect sketch of one of the most remarkable works that science has produced, and we close it without even naming some of the highest themes in tho book. The work is admirably illustrated and printed by the American publisher. It may be purchased at the hookstore of L. A. Civill,

THE STEAMER ALHAMBRA DESTROYED BY tary advances as would pay off the debts of the association and save the Fair Grounds from sacrifice, beg leave respectfully to report that they have diligently applied themselves to soliciting assistance from stockholders on GUERILLAS.-We received Intelligence inft evening of the capture and destruction of tho steamer Alhambra, by guerillas, in the Cumberland River. It appears that she grounded at a point called Devil's Elbow, on Sunday evening, 13th inst., and before she was got of a gucrilla party made their appearance on the bank of the river, when the crew deserted her and escaped safely to Memphis. The steamer Hope was also grounded at the foot of Island No. Eighteen, and the rebels were ln sight of her when the crew of the Albambra left. She has no doubt met a similar fate. The Hope was heavily loaded, and bound down the river. The Alhambra was in the Government service, and was the property of Mr. N. B. Taylor, of this city. She was an excellent passenger boat, of 500 tons burden, and built about Resolved, That Messrs. Mallory, Thornberry and O'Bannon he a committee of three to take six years ago. Capt. Pres. PENNSYLVANIANS IN KENTUCKY. - When the history of this war is written, Kentucky will be as greatly in arrears of gratitudo to the Keystone State as to any of her other sisters, for its assistance has been as generous and hearty as it was prompt. The names of Negley, Stamhaugh, Wynkoop, Williams, Jordan, Brown, and others, omitted from no invidious motive, will always be remembered in our Commonwealth for their gallant services Their commands were among the first called to the State by the General Government for its defence, and there is hardly n county from Burnside. the Big Sandy to the Mississippl, or from th Thomas organizing the "First Regiment of Ohio to our Southern border, in which they have not visited and performed effective work. GUERILLAS CAPTUREN.-We are pleased to learn that the most energetic efforts of our military commanders to clear the counties of Nicholas, Montgomery, Bath, and Bourbon of lurking rebel soldiers, have been attended with the happiest results. The Paris Citizen states that scouting parties succeeded the other day in capturing ten or twelve of them, including R. W. Clayton and William Cheshire, formerly of that town. A squad of company B, 9th Kentucky cavalry, is on special duty in Bourbon under Lieutenant C. S. Brent, Jr., and las Monday Sergeant Henry Conningham, accompanied by Robert Tevehaugh, took two o Humphrey Marshall's men prisoners near Clin tonville, and brought them into Paris, where they were handed over to the Commander of the 29th Massachusetts volunteers. Ail this is very gratifying, but we hope to hear that Gen. Burnside's recent order will be more vigorously enforced against rebel sympathizers and those who harbor the prowling vagabonds who come from their mountain concealments like famished wolves in sea.ch of any prey they can pick up. While we are ferreting ou these vermin, the very holes that conceal them should be stopped up.

Colonel William A. Warner, of the Eighteenth Kentucky Infantry, who distinguished himself in the battle of Richmone last summer, had two horses shot under him and was himself supposed to be mortally wounded by a ball through the hreast, has entirely recovered, and now commands a brigade in General Cook's division, consisting of the Eighteenth Kentucky, the Eleventh and Thirty-sixth Ohlo, who served under McClellan lr Western Virginla and on the Potomac, and the Eighty-ninth and Ninety-second, who fought in all the battles near Murfreosboro Tenu., and are now at Carthage, on the Cuin berland river.

Harper, for May, has been sent to u by L. A. Civill. The illustrated papers are policeman, who is a cripple at that. He mus "Scenes in the War of 1812" and "Robbery a a Science," the latter giving a history, both by word and pictures, of the way burglar thieves, and robbers carry on their trade. The serial novels are continued; the editor's table drawer, &c., are rich and rncy, and the whole number a very good one, closing, by the way, the twenty-sixth volume.

MILITARY Anaests .- We learn from the Cin cinneti Commercial that John H. Nelsou, formerly Judge of the Campbell County Court and his son William Nelson, were arrested or Friday, the former at Alexandria, and the lat ter seven miles from there, by a squad of soldiers sent from Demossville. The prisoner were conveyed to the latter place. We were unable to learn the specific charge on which the parties were arrested.

RESELS CAPTUREO .- A special to the Evans ville Journal says Captain Mass, of the 65th Indiana, with a small squad of his men, arrested Captain Peyton, one Lieutenant, and one private, all of the rebel service, at Hartford, Ohio county, Kentucky, ou Friday, and took the prisoners to Henderson under guard.

There is an immense quantity of tobacco mannfactured at the Indiana State Prison, at Jeffersonville, and from what we can learn there is no probability of their suspending operations this summer.

[Special to the New York Tribuae.] WASHINGTON, April 17. Our forces, comprising cavalry, infantry, and artillery, nnder Gen. Stoneman, after making a feint at Kelly's Ford, crossed the Rappahannock higher up and pushed on to Culpepper and Gordonsville. They now ocupy the latter place, having driven the enem perefrom. This breaks the line of the Vir ginia Central Railroad, and turns the flanks of the rebels at Fredericksburg.

Those who are in possession of all that is known on the subject of our relations with Great Britain, feel that they have reason to be more hopeful of a pacific solution of the pending questions than they were a few days ago. they whink England is beginning to see the cror of her ways, and that she will, either hrough the agency of her courts or by some other means, stop the fleet now being fitted out

Da. WM. H. GREGG:

Dear Sir: In February, 1861, I was afflicted with the sugar diabetes, and for five menths I passed more than two gallons of water in 24 hours. I was obliged to got up as often as ten er twelve times during the night, and in five months I lest about fifty pounds in weight. During the moath of July, 1861, I procured two bottles of Constitution Water, and in two days after using it I experiented relief, and after taking two bottles I was entirely cured, soon after regaining two bottles I was entirely cured, soon after regaining my usual good health.
